

CASTING CALL

The Pittsburgh Penguins, Pittsburgh Penguins Foundation and Unpack U seek a student or recent alumnus in the greater Pittsburgh community to be a CO-HOST for the Penguins U College Training Camp course, a new initiative designed to offer students core skills they can utilize now and throughout their careers. Participants engage in a series of unique challenges and learning opportunities designed to prepare students for the real world transition after graduation.

[PENGUINS U CO-HOST]: Pittsburgh college student, any gender, any ethnicity.

Seeking a well-spoken, personable, Pittsburgh- based university student or recent alumnus with enthusiasm for helping others develop professional skills. The co-host assists and guides the participants of Penguins U in crafting their professional vision, mission, values and goals utilizing techniques from the Pittsburgh Penguins. Acting / on-camera experience required. Stipend provided.

If you are interested and fit the description, please email info@unpacku.org with the following:

- Headshot
- Resume
- Links to examples of on-camera work (if available)
- University you attend / attended
- Your graduation year
- Where you are based

Please send in materials by Friday, June 11th 2021. If we are interested in bringing you in for an audition, we will contact you with details.

Candidates will need to be available to shoot in Pittsburgh in mid-July. The Pittsburgh Penguins, Pittsburgh Penguins Foundation, and Unpack U are committed to inclusive casting. Submissions will be accepted for all performers, regardless of sex, ethnicity, disability, race, color, national origin, sexual orientation, or gender identity.
